Letter from the President:

Dear Members,

It's hard to believe that we are already in the month of February. The month of Love.

As artists we love creating. Along with our art we have created a group of very special loving artists and families. I am happy to say that many members have rejoined and our numbers are growing.

I would like to thank the board members who are important in helping to make PBWS what it is today. Many members not on the Board have been volunteering and helping with shows, Paint-Ins and workshops. This is what makes a community great.

Stay well and keep those paints and brushes wet and juicy,

Adrienne Walker President PBWS

A reminder of the recent changes that have been made to benefit everyone:

We have a new website: www.palmbeachwatercolorsociety.com. You will find the website offers an easy way to pay for memberships, workshops, paint-ins, show entry fees, and to make donations by using your credit card. Those who wish to pay by check may still do so.

So please note, there will be only two ways to make payments going forward. Payments may be either be made via credit card online through our new website or by mailing a check to PBWS c/o Jimmy Walker, 6442 Emerald Breeze Way, Boynton Beach, FL 33437.

This means that we no longer will be accepting payments using the following: PayPal, Zelle, Venmo.

Entries into shows will be made through the new website as well. We will no longer be using CloudFolios.

Our in-person monthly meetings have resumed at the

Boca Raton Community Center
150 Crawford Road, Boca Raton, FL

Doors open at 6:00 PM. Meeting begins at 6:30 PM
All members invited to attend. Guest donation is $5.00,

MEET OUR FEBRUARY DEMO ARTIST

Award Winning Artist Steve Griggs
February 9th, 2023, Member Meeting
The Boca Raton Community Center

With fun and humor, Steve Griggs will demonstrate his unique style of loose, moving, and evocative watercolor painting.

Taking ‘loose’ to a new level, Steve uses bold lines, shapes, and color to create expressive paintings that draw the viewer into the scene. Learn about making friends with your watercolors, taking risks, and painting freely.

We have video recordings of monthly meeting demos and workshops.

If you are a member, there is no fee for the monthly meeting demo recordings. The fee for guests is $25 for one meeting demo recording.

If you attended a workshop and the workshop was recorded by PBWS with permission from the artist ~ and you would like a copy of the video recording the fee is $15 for 1 day, $30 for 2 days, and $45 for 3 days.

If you did not attend the workshop the fee for the video recording is $75 for 1 day, $150 for 2 days, and $225 for 3 days.

The monies will go towards our scholarship fund.

BOBBIN MARILYN SALISBURY – WATERCOLOR FROM BEGINNING TO ADVANCED

Impressionistic, Abstract or Realistic

My class is all about basic techniques, how-to's, and lots of tips. My goal is to give you the best information you need to become a watercolor artist. My online classes can be found at RecolorYourWorld.com. When you sign up with your e-mail I will send you 3 FREE classes. Each class has 8 lessons, with videos you can follow along with, 2 personal Zoom classes, and a private RecolorYour World student Facebook group. If you are interested in in person classes e-mail me at bobbinsart@gmail.com. A sampling of my work can be found on BobbinsArtWork.com.

Ask the WATERCOLOR DOCTOR

by Carol Z. Brody NWS, TWSA
czbrody@carolzbrody.com
www.carolzbrody.com

QUESTION: What is the best way for me to set myself up before I begin to paint? What is the best way to care for my materials?

ANSWER: I wrote about this some years ago in my column, but it is such an important part of being organized as an artist and getting ready to paint that I wanted to share it with you again. In the 1980's, I was fortunate enough to take watercolor classes with Barbara Nechis at Parsons School of design, now part of the New School in New York City. The smallish room held about a dozen students, and we were compelled to use our work spaces as productively and efficiently as possible. Since then, I have continued to follow suggestions Barbara gave us, and in the 30 plus years in which I have been teaching, I have passed them on to my students. Now I'll pass them on to you!

1. Place your paper on a board of some sort, directly in front of you, parallel to the table's edge, not at an angle. If you are right handed, put your palette, brushes and water on the right side of your painting. I use the overturned lid of my John Pike palette as a tray for my water container, and I place my brushes in it as well. Paper towels and a hair dryer and any other necessary implements go to my left. Put away anything else such as bins and boxes of tubes of paint, old paintings, extra paper and old brushes you know you will never use for watercolor. They will only clutter up your work space.

2. I always instruct my students to take out brushes of all sizes and have them ready to pick up quickly as needed. That way they are more inclined to use the right brush for the job, rather than making due with an inappropriate one. It's surprising to me how often I see painters still leaving most of their brushes in their brush holders, practically unused, and then commenting that they couldn't make the mark they wanted because the brush they wanted was in their brush holder!

3. Have enough water in a large mouthed water container, but never leave your brushes standing in water, since this can rot the wood and ruin the hairs!

4. When you finish your painting session, rinse your brushes with water and lay them flat to dry. If you are traveling, get a brush holder to put your brushes into. When you get home, open up your brush holder and lay it flat so that your brushes can dry properly. Regarding your palette, clean up any large areas of mixed paint or "mud" which you won't use next time. This will give you a clean, fresh surface to work on next time you paint. If you are traveling, open your palette when you get home to check for any puddles or leaks.

Well, now to the real work of making a painting! The setup is the easy part! Good luck!
